

QLD Occupational Therapy Services Outcome-focused solutions tailored to your needs

In the instances where you have injured workers, it is vital that they are provided outcome-focused Occupational Therapy to assist them in their Return to Work. Active Working Solutions provides Occupational Therapy services aimed at enabling injured workers to return to suitable duties as soon as possible.

Activity of Daily Living Assessments and Training

Whilst it is important for injured workers to have suitable duties when they return to work, it is just as essential to determine what duties and tasks they are able to safely perform in the home environment.

The AWS team of qualified Occupational Therapists are able to work with your injured workers to evaluate their capacities outside the workplace and provide training to cope with changes in these. Education is also provided, reducing the potential for further injury.

Additionally, AWS Assessments help to determine the need for home modifications and equipment to be installed.

Manual Handling Training

AWS Occupational Therapists are able to train your staff in effective Manual Handling Techniques that help to reduce the risk of injury.

In addition to ensuring legal compliance this in turn can decrease your premiums and down-time with injured workers. AWS Manual Handling Training ensures skills are developed in hazard identification, risk assessment and control strategies to ensure all risks are managed.

Functional Capacity Evaluation

Conducting AWS Functional Capacity Evaluations on injured workers provides concise, objective and detailed information in relation to the individuals ability to perform duties at work. AWS uses a combination of standardised assessment processes with tailored assessing to ensure a comprehensive and cost effective outcome.

Workplace and Ergonomic Assessments and Job Analysis

To reduce the risk of an injury or re-injury, it is important that employees workplace and job is safe and healthy. AWS Occupational Therapists are equipped to evaluate the workplace (whether these be on-site at the organisation or in a home office environment) to ensure the risk of injury or re-injury are minimal. The assessment also covers general health and safety issues. It is recommended that the Occupational Therapist conducting the assessment also develop a Suitable Duties Program to ensure a safe Return to Work.

Pre-Employment Assessments

If you assess to see if a person has the aptitude and personal characteristics for a job, then why not assess whether they can actually physically do the job? AWS Pre-Employment Assessments are a way of assessing an applicants ability to perform the specific tasks of a job. AWS Assessments are tailored to test the critical demands of each position within your company. We also ensure manual handling issues are addressed.
